HERE COMES THE ALPHABET!

Here we come showing up on the walls. The cutest letters you ever did meet. Hey, hey we are the alphabet coming your way. The alphabet is waiting for you. Helping you learn all your letters this year. Just wait and see what we have in store for you! I will be introducing some unique ways to generate an interest in the study of the alphabet. The letters may be mastered in all or some of these ways during the week. We may stamp that letter on a larger sized letter one day. While the next day Dot Art Markers may be used to dot paint the letter of the week. How will the letter of the week look when it is covered in play dough or built with Lego blocks? Another method is to cover the letter in colored wooden mosaic shapes on a letter mat. Movement to act out the item representing the letter, i.e. Alligator stretching your arms and chomping down. Whatever works, right? You will even see them wear the alphabet on a hat! Once the hat is full, I will send it home and we will start a new one.

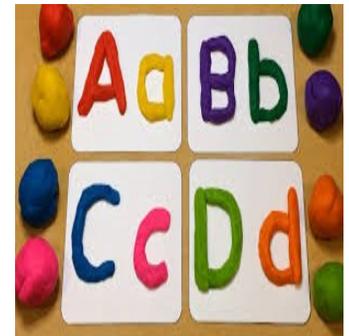

"Awareness creates awareness." I would very much like to introduce them to sight words. In the past, the kids really enjoyed the songs and chants used to make it a silly but memorable lesson. We will take it slow as I do not want to overwhelm them while we are learning our letters too Last year they really loved the challenge of learning new words by word chants and building the letters with letter magnets.

I am happy to report ,that we are settling into our new school day routine. It was for the most part, a smooth transition. Far better than other years in the past. So pats on the back to all of you, both adults and children alike! Like I like to say here to them "Good Job!" I would love to hear back from you on your thoughts, ideas or suggestions on any of the contents of this newsletter. Thanks for your support!

Finally, I would like to prepare you and them for what lies ahead. We are counting down the days until my second grandchild will be born, October 10th. As a Mother, I want to help her out with watching my Granddaughter Sage. So when the baby comes, I will be taking some time off to take care of her while her parents are in the hospital with baby Ella. I have prepared our lessons for Miss Hilda to execute in my absence. Halloween Party on October 31th All the children are invited to the party whether it is your day or not to attend school.

Love Miss Janet

INFORMATION STATION

The temperature is dipping down now so be sure to change out your child's extra clothing to some warmer ones. As long as the weather holds we will be going out to enjoy the playground. A coat and hat would be great to keep them toasty warm.

Halloween Party details will soon be made available, so watch for them.

Let the fun continue!
